

Chapter History

The Boston Chapter of NABE was founded in early 2013 as an inclusive forum for professionals interested in furthering their knowledge of business economics. The chapter provides members with a unique and insightful eye into the world of economics while allowing members to build a professional network in New England.

Providing leadership in the use and understanding of economics

NABE

National Association for Business Economics

Why Join?

 This is a dynamic and all-inclusive association.

 We are committed to offering leadership in the use and understanding of business economics.

 We will bring in talents from a wide array of organizations that call upon economics in their professional activities.

 You will be able to network with professionals from the private sector, academia, and the public sector.

 Our events will give you local access to renowned economists and business leaders

 We will provide a forum to exchange ideas, develop new skills, and network.
