Guidelines for Referees

Editorial Standards

The Economics Bulletin is an open access, peer-reviewed, letters journal that publishes Notes, Comments and Preliminary Results in all area of economics. Submissions are restricted to seven printed pages exclusive of references, appendices, tables and figures.

One of our central missions is to foster free and extremely rapid scientific communication across the entire community of research economists. As such, we make every attempt to make decisions within six to eight weeks and accepted paper are published immediately. Thus, we would appreciate it if you could provide your review within 30 days. In hopes of making this more feasible, we ask only that you make an up or down recommendation and provide a short paragraph or two explaining the reasons for your recommendation. In general, our standard for publication is that papers be original, correct, and of interest to a specialist in the field.

We realize that this is an extremely short time-frame and your schedule may not permit you to accommodate our request. In this case, we would be grateful if you would please email the editor who requested the report directly and suggest an alternative deadline. If it turns out you will not be able to review this manuscript at all, please send back a short note to let us know this so that we can seek another reviewer. We sincerely appreciate your help.

Mechanics

When you are ready to proceed please click here. You will be asked to supply the paper number, your user name (email address) and password. If you have forgotten your password, you can request it at the login screen. It is important that you use the same email address the associate editor used to contact you. Otherwise, the system will not recognize you.

Once you have you have logged in, you can either upload your report as PDF file or type/cut and paste it in directly to our the editing box provided. You may also write a cover letter to the editor in charge of the manuscript with your candid comments and advice if you wish. This will not be forwarded to the authors.

Thanks very much for your help.
