

Volume 28, Issue 4Research Announcement*A computational analysis of the core of a trading economy with three competitive equilibria

Alok Kumar
Yale

Martin Shubik
Yale

Abstract

An exchange economy with three equilibrium points is considered. The core of this economy is studied under replication. It is shown that the core splits into separate segments after 5 and then 12 replications and that convergences proceeds at different rates towards the three equilibria.

Published as a working paper in Cowles Foundation Discussion Paper 1290

Paper is available at URL:

Alok Kumar

Yale

Martin.shubik@yale.edu

140 Edgehill Rd

Hamden, 06517, USA

Citation: Alok Kumar and Martin Shubik, (2001) "A computational analysis of the core of a trading economy with three competitive equilibria", Economics Bulletin, Vol. 28 no.4 p.A1.

Submitted: February 04, 2001 Published: February 04, 2001.

URL: <http://www.accessecon.com/pubs/EB/2001/Volume28/EB-01AA0007A.pdf>