Following on the success of past conferences, the Faculty of Economic and Financial Sciences at the University of Johannesburg, will be hosting its Fourth Biennial International Value Conference taking place at the magnificent Champagne Sports Resort situated in the heart of the Drakensberg mountains. Academics and practitioners are invited to submit papers for presentation at the conference which provides an excellent opportunity for the presentation of high quality research that covers key topics relating to the central theme of Value in Sustainable Business Practices. The Value 2012 conference is the perfect platform to bring together researchers and academic minds in the financial disciplines in order to grasp and realise the hopes, dreams and business ambitions of a new Africa – one that recognises value through sustainable business practices.
