CALL FOR PAPERS European Society for Population Economics (ESPE) The Seventeenth Annual Conference will take place on June 13-15, 2003, in New York City on the Washington Square campus of New York University. The Conference is held for the exchange of research results and ideas in a number of fields, including household economics, labor economics, public economics, demography, and health economics. Keynote lectures will be delivered by James Heckman (University of Chicago) and Thomas Sargent (Stanford University). Christopher Flinn (NYU) will serve as both the program chair and local organizer. Other members of the program committee are Daniela Del Boca (University of Turin) and Wilbert van der Klaauw (University of North Carolina). All submissions should be sent by e-mail to the program committee at gsas.econ.espe2003@nyu.edu. Submissions should include an abstract and, when possible, the paper itself. Preference will be given to submissions that include a complete paper, other things equal. Abstracts are to be submitted as plain text in the main body of the email papers should be sent as attachments in either MS Word, .pdf, or .ps format. The submission deadline is February 1, 2003. Acceptance decisions will be communicated on March 1, 2003. Waivers of the conference registration fee will be provided for 10 graduate students. To apply for a waiver the submission of a full paper together with a confirmation of student status by the dissertation supervisor is required. Information on conference location, registration, and hotel reservations will be available through www.espe.org.
